AWARD

1. A joint application has been made by the Bank of Tokyo Limited and its workmen for an award in terms of the settlement arrived at between the parties, bearing date 16th August, 1960, a copy whereof is hereto annexed and marked Annexure 'A'. By the memorandum of settlement it is stated that there were no disputes between the Bank and its workmen in respect of any of the items contained in the Second Schedule to the order of Reference dated 21st March, 1960, made by the Central Government to this National Tribunal. It is further stated that the Bank and its workmen were agreed that the present terms and conditions of service should continue and that in the event of this National Tribunal making an award which in its totality provided for more favourable terms and conditions of service than those existing in the Bank, the parties would review the terms and conditions obtaining at present with a view to arriving at an agreed and amicable settlement. The memorandum of settlement is signed by the Bank and all its workmen.

2. Notice of the hearing of the matter was duly served upon the Bank and its workmen as well as upon the All India Bank Employees' Association and the All India Bank Employees' Federation. The All India Bank Employees' Association on 10th September, 1960, objected to the aforesaid application, alleging that the same was not maintainable in so far as no proper settlement had been reached. It was further stated that in so far as both the parties had agreed to review the terms and conditions of service after the publication of the final award of the Tribunal, the application was not maintainable and was bad in law.

3. When the matter appeared before me on 25th November, 1960, Shri Setlur, who appeared on behalf of the Bank of Tokyo Ltd., made a statement before me on behalf of the Bank that the emoluments of the workmen of the Bank will not be less than the emoluments that may be awarded by me in Reference No. 1 of 1960. On this statement being made, Shri Nargolkar, who appeared on behalf of the All India Bank Employees Association, stated that he had no objection to the settlement being recorded and an award being given in terms thereof. There is now no opposition by any person to the settlement being recorded and an award being made in terms thereof.

4. The settlement represents a lawful agreement arrived at between the Bank and its workmen. I record the settlement arrived at between the parties and make an award in terms thereof.

In the matter of Applications regarding grant of Interim Relief

PRESENT:

APPEARANCES:

For the Applicants:

Shri V. K. Tembe, Advocate, in Miscellaneous Application No. 1 of 1960.

Shri D. S. Nargolkar, Advocate, in Miscellaneous Application No. 3 of 1960.

For the Opponent: (In both the Applications):

Shri N. A. Palkhivala, Counsel, instructed by Shri R. Setlur of Messrs. Crawford Bayley and Co., Solicitors, for the Reserve Bank of India.

INDUSTRY: Banking

Bombay, the 29th December 1960

INTERIM AWARD

1. The All India Reserve Bank, 'D' Class Employees' Union on behalf of the employees belonging to Class IV of the Reserve Bank of India has made an application for the grant by way of interim relief to Class IV employees of 21 per cent of the total emoluments with a minimum of Rs. 25/- with effect from 1st January 1958. The All India Reserve Bank Employees' Association, Bombay, on behalf of the employees belonging to Classes II and III of the Reserve Bank of India has made an application for payment by way of interim relief to all the employees of 25 per cent of the basic pay with effect from July 1958.

2. These applications have been strenuously contested on behalf of the opponent Bank.

3. The present emoluments of the employees of the Reserve Bank of India are not governed by any award of any Tribunal. In the year 1953 the Sastry Tribunal gave its award fixing certain scales of pay and dearness allowance for the employees of numerous banks. The parties to the reference filed appeals from the decision of the Sastry Tribunal before the Labour Appellate Tribunal. In the month of April 1954 the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal was published. On 18th May 1954 the All India Reserve Bank Employees' Association submitted to the authorities of the Reserve Bank of India a charter of demands relating to pay scales and allowances. On 21st May 1954 the All India Reserve Bank 'D' Class Employees' Union also submitted its demands relating to the pay scales and allowances. A conciliation conference was held in September/October 1954 when discussions were held between the authorities of the Reserve Bank of India and the representatives of the All India Reserve Bank Employees' Association and an agreement was arrived at whereunder new scales of pay were fixed with retroactive effect from 1st October 1953. In the month of November 1954 a conciliation conference was held by the authorities of the Reserve Bank of India with the representatives of the All India Reserve Bank 'D' Class Employees' Union and an agreement was arrived at whereunder new scales of pay were fixed with retroactive effect from 1st October 1953. These agreements were to remain in force for a period of 3 years.

4. Thereafter with effect from 1st April 1955 the Reserve Bank of India extended the benefit of local pay to the staff at Kanpur. Effective from 1st July 1957 the rate of family allowance for Class IV employees was increased to Rs. 7.50 per child per month subject to a maximum of Rs. 22.50 per mensem. Effective from 1st January 1958 the Bank granted an increase of Rs. 5/- per month in dearness allowance to all Class IV employees. Effective from the same date the Bank granted an increase in dearness allowance to Class III staff, varying between Rs. 7.50 and Rs. 15/- according to the pay slab. Effective from 1st January 1959 the Bank increased the dearness allowance by Rs. 5/- per month of all Class IV employees. Effective from the same date, the dearness allowance was increased in respect of Class III staff, varying between Rs. 7.50 and Rs. 15/- according to the pay slab. Class II employees drawing a basic pay upto Rs. 500/- were allowed from 1st January 1959 an increase of Rs. 15/- per mensem in their dearness allowance.

5. The Reserve Bank of India has from time to time sanctioned various facilities to its employees. These facilities compare favourably with the facilities granted in other Banks under the Sastry Award. The Sastry Award prescribes the employer's as well as the employee's contribution to the provident fund at the rate of 8-1/3 per cent, whereas the rate of such contribution in the Reserve Bank of India is 10 per cent. The Reserve Bank of India further permits its employees to contribute an additional 10 per cent to the provident fund. There are various other facilities and allowances granted by the Reserve Bank of India which have been set out at some length in the reply of the Reserve Bank to the aforesaid applications. It is not, however, necessary to refer thereto. Suffice it to say that the total emoluments and benefits received by the employees of the Reserve Bank of India compare favourably with the total emoluments and benefits received by the employees of most of the A Class Banks in Area I under the Sastry Award, as subsequently modified.

6. It has been strenuously urged before me on behalf of the employees that since the date of the agreements of 1954 there has been a considerable rise in the All India Consumer Price Index No. for the working class. The All India Average Consumer Price Index No. for the year 1954 (Base 1949=100) was 101, for the year 1955 was 96, for the year 1956 was 105, for the year 1957 was 111, for the year 1958 was 116, for the year 1959 was 121 and for the first six months of 1960 it was 122.3. It is urged that the two increases in dearness allowance granted by the Bank are not sufficient to counteract the effect of the increase in prices; that there has been an erosion in the purchasing power of money given as and by way of wages to the employees of the Bank and that considerable hardship has been caused to the employees, which needs to be alleviated by the grant of interim relief. It is further urged that having regard to the recommendations of the Second Pay Commission the emoluments of the Central Government employees have been raised and that under the various awards given by Tribunals the total emoluments of employees in comparable concerns have also increased. It is urged that since the year 1954 when the aforesaid agreements were arrived at the principles of minimum wage fixation and the concept of minimum wage have undergone a sweeping change in favour of the employees and that the wage structure of the employees of the Reserve Bank of India called for a substantial upward revision. It is further urged that there has been an increase in the national income, that the Reserve Bank of India had capacity to pay to its employees fair wages and that it was under an obligation to pay the same. It was urged that the Reserve Bank of India has set a higher standard for itself and should, having regard to the change in the circumstances, pay higher emoluments to its employees. It is pleaded that the adjudication by the Tribunal is likely to take a long time and that the employees should be given immediate relief by way of interim relief.

7. The Bank on the other hand contends that the emoluments of its employees must not be seriously out of step with those of the Central Government employees and must be related to those given to commercial Bank employees. The Bank further states that the demands of the All India Reserve Bank 'D' Class Employees' Union, if conceded, would involve an increase of about 100 to 200 per cent over the existing emoluments which were already higher than those recommended for the Government servants by the Central Pay Commission. It is stated that the demands of the All India Reserve Bank Employees Association, if conceded, would involve an increase of about 100 to 150 per cent over the existing emoluments which were already higher than those recommended for the Central Government employees. It has been further stated by the Bank that as a matter of fact it reviews the position of the dearness allowance paid by it in the light of the increase in the cost of living index and gives relief whenever justified. It is stated in the affidavit of Sankara Naryan Swamy, Deputy Chief Accountant of the Reserve Bank of India, dated 2nd September 1960, that in reviewing the position from time to time, the Bank also takes into account the total emoluments of employees of commercial banks. It is urged on behalf of the Bank that the relief claimed by way of interim relief is such as would involve a determination of some of the main issues arising in the Reference for adjudication and that no case has been made out for the grant of interim relief.

8. In the course of the arguments advanced before me on behalf of the All India Reserve Bank Employees Association, strong reliance was placed on behalf of the employees on a passage from the speech of a former Governor of the Bank at informal discussions which took place between him and the office bearers of the Association on 23rd May 1946 when it was stated as follows:—

“.....the Governor and the Directors were prepared always to view the cause of the staff sympathetically and have already laid down a policy that we should be prepared to give our staff slightly more than what other comparable institutions are prepared to pay, thus giving a lead to a policy of enlightened employment of white collar labour.”

Shri Palkhivala, the learned counsel for the Bank, however, urged that the employees when they come before a National Tribunal for adjudication of their claims cannot rely upon such passages and invoke past grace shown by the Bank and contended that the Tribunal was concerned with the fixation of a wage level as a matter of industrial law. He urged that the scales of pay of the Reserve Bank of India did not fall below the average A Class Banks and that the scales of pay of the Reserve Bank were higher even if the two months bonus paid by some of the Banks was taken into account. He urged that the scales of pay which were linked up with an index number cannot be compared with those not so linked up, as in the case of the Reserve Bank.

9. There is no agreement as regards the principles on which the wage structure should rest. The matters raised before me are of considerable importance and require proper data and evidence for the due determination thereof. The determination of all matters referred to me in the Reference will not now take a very long time. The present scales of pay and allowances are not such as would necessitate the grant of relief without further evidence and without due determination of the matters referred to me for adjudication. Enough material has not been placed before me to warrant the grant of interim relief. After the matters have been heard fully, if the case warrants, a provision can be made for giving effect to some of the provisions of the award from a date earlier than the date of the award.

10. I am not discussing at present the various matters which have been argued before me for the purpose of the grant of interim relief, as that may tend to prejudice the hearing of the main Reference before me. On the materials placed before me, I am unable to give any interim relief.

11. In the result, no relief by way of interim relief is granted in any of the above applications.
